

M. PHILIPS
1233 Seventh St. N.W.

PATRIOTIC SONGS

COLUMBIA RECORDS

A 335
10 inch
65c
Battle Hymn of the Republic.
Old Folks at Home. Henry Burr. Tenor.

A 1548
10 inch
65c
Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean. Columbia Stellar Quartette.
Medley of American War Songs. Prince's Band.

A 325
10 inch
65c
Maryland, My Maryland. Geo. Alexander. Baritone.
Last Night. Corinne Morgan. Contralto.

A 1685
10 inch
$1.00
Star Spangled Banner. Geo. Alexander. Baritone.
In the Valley of Kentucky. Tenor Solo.

A 326
10 inch
65c
Star Spangled Banner. Margaret Woodrow Wilson. Soprano.
A chorus of mixed voices.
Medley of Patriotic Airs. Columbia Band.

Complete Stock of Gramophones and Records

OPEN LATE EVENINGS

We Excel
In Shirt and Collar
Laundering

It's the real test of a good laundry.

Yes, we launder Patent Beach Suits Right.

Try Us!
Best by Test

West End Laundry
1723-25 Pa. Ave.
Phone Main 2321.

This Store
Will Close
12:30 O'Clock
May 30th,
Decoration Day

W. B. Moses & Sons
F and 11th Sts.

Fine Traveling Bag,
$5.50

A smart Bag for week-end trips—and an unusual value at the price. 16-inch size; made of cowhide; stitched seams and corners; leather lined; two inside pockets and brass lock and clasp.

Trunks Repaired.

425 7th St. KNEESS 1221 G St.

CHAS. SCHWARTZ $50
Ladies' Pure White Diamond Ring

Immediate possession—cash prices. But easy payments conveniently arranged to suit your convenience.

708 Seventh St.

Buy Butter

—from us DIRECT and be certain of quality products at Lowest Market Prices.

—Our service is as satisfactory as our goods and prices. Call, phone or write.

Famous P. E. Sharpless Cheeses.

JAS. F. OYSTER
9th & Pa. Ave.
Phone M. 4820. All Markets.

LION ROLL

PLIABLE, POINTS, WELT EDGE
LINKS AND BUTTONS

Lion Collars

MADE IN AMERICA
UNITED SHIRT & COLLAR CO., TROY, N. Y.

CONGRATULATIONS ON GOLDEN WEDDING

Judge and Mrs. A. S. Taylor Receive Felicitations of Their Friends.

JUDGE A. S. TAYLOR.

Anson S. Taylor, United States commissioner for the District of Columbia, and Mrs. Taylor are today celebrating their "golden wedding anniversary" at their home, 1209 21st street northwest. The celebration is entirely informal, consisting principally of calls by a host of friends.

Judge and Mrs. Taylor were both born in New Jersey, the judge in Burlington county, Mrs. Taylor in Gloucester county, but have spent all their married life in Washington. Twenty years of Mr. Taylor's boyhood and young manhood were spent in Mount Holly, where he attended Friends School and the West Jersey College, and where he was a member of the college football team. The winter of '57, '58, '59 and '60 he taught school, and during the summer vacations acquired a knowledge of "the art of preservation"—printing. He worked at typesetting in the Mount Holly Herald office in the fall of '61, which helped to enter the transportation department of the quartermaster's department, U. S. A., in this city. In January, 1862, he was detailed to Gen. McClellan's headquarters train, serving during the peninsula and Maryland campaigns.

Coming to Washington shortly after the close of the Maryland campaign Judge Taylor entered the department of the quartermaster's department as captain of the watch, was promoted as clerk, assistant superintendent and superintendent, and as a clerk was transferred to "Lincoln depot," where he remained until February, 1865, when he resigned to go into business, and was the first "temperance grocery store" in the District, at the corner of 5th and C streets northeast, at that time almost out in the country. He moved to the first ward in 1867, where on the corner of 20th and I streets northwest he conducted his "temperance grocery."

MRS. A. S. TAYLOR.

Active in All Civic Affairs.

Judge Taylor has always taken an active part in the civic affairs of the District. He was in 1868 and 1869 a member of the common council of the city government and chairman of the committee on improvements. He has been an officer in the Methodist Union and the Christian Endeavor Society have all had his services. Mr. Taylor was made a Master Mason in 1862, is a R. A. M. and a thirty-second degree Mason of the Cerneau S. R., is treasurer of Friendship Lodge, No. 12, I. O. O. F., which he joined in 1872. He is also an active member of the Army and Navy Union and the Army and Navy Veterans.

Anniversary Sixty in Family.

Judge Taylor and Rachel A. Eastlack were married by her brother, Rev. Calvin Eastlack, at Tuckerton, N. J., May 29, 1866. They have had five children, four of whom are living. Bessie E. is a teacher in the public schools, John E. is a title attorney for the United States, Sarah A. is a clerk and Estella E. has lately become Mrs. Horace W. Thompson. There are two grandchildren, sons of John E. and Beatrice Hotel, his wife.

Judge Taylor, up to within the past few years, has not been behind in good works. Always, at the home of her youth active in church work, it was not difficult to continue it during her married life. In W. C. T. U. work she has been actively engaged, and has been one of the trustees of the headquarters on 6th street northwest, since its purchase and the incorporation of the District Union.

The golden wedding anniversary is the sixth in the family of Mrs. Taylor. First, her father, John C. Eastlack, and his wife Elizabeth, her mother, were married more than fifty-two years, second, a brother, Amos E. Eastlack, and Mary, his wife, third, her oldest sister, Sarah E. Lodge, and Samuel D. Lodge, her husband, fourth, her elder brother, John F. Eastlack, and Addie S. his wife, fifth, a younger sister, Emma E. Moffatt, and Biddle R. Moffatt, her husband, and now, sixth, Rachel A. E. Taylor and Anson S. Taylor, her husband. All are living, except the father and mother, Amos E. Eastlack and Samuel D. Lodge.

DELEGATES SELECT DATE OF PRIMARIES

Delegates for District to National Convention to Be Chosen Wednesday.

Democratic primaries to elect twelve delegates to the democratic national convention in St. Louis from the District of Columbia and the District's member of the national committee will be held Wednesday, and the polls will be open from 3 to 7 p.m. This announcement was made today by the democratic central committee, together with the location of the polling places and instructions to officers at the twenty-two election districts.

The instructions say that the judges and clerks must be on duty between 3 and 7 p.m., and continue:

Rules Announced.
"Each male voter over twenty-one years of age shall give his name and address, state his party affiliation, that he has been a resident of the District for one year and a resident of the voting district for three months prior to the election, and he will support the nominee of the democratic national convention, and that he will not participate in any other primary this year. If such voter has participated in any other primary, he shall be ineligible to vote in these primaries."

"Immediately upon the conclusion of the voting, all ballot boxes will be locked and delivered at once to the democratic central committee at democratic headquarters, Riggs building, where the ballots will be counted by each district and certified to by the chairman and secretary of the said committee."

"The democratic central committee of the District of Columbia, through its member of the democratic national committee and the twelve delegates to the St. Louis convention as shown by the returns to have been chosen a certificate of their election."

Voting Places.

The following are the voting places for the twenty-two districts:

District No. 1, 2104 Nichols avenue, Anacostia.
District No. 2, 701 Florida avenue northwest.
District No. 3, 1304 Wisconsin avenue northwest.
District No. 4, 1307 Wisconsin avenue northwest.
District No. 5, 2130 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.
District No. 6, 1810 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.
District No. 7, 1411 N street northwest.
District No. 8, 14th street near P street northwest.
District No. 9, 132 11th street northwest.
District No. 10, 329 12th street northwest.
District No. 11, 1355 C street southwest.
District No. 12, 617 F street southwest.
District No. 13, 1234 9th street northwest.
District No. 14, 50 M street northwest.
District No. 15, room 1, 500 H street northwest.
District No. 16, 455 Louisiana avenue northwest.
District No. 17, 620 D street southwest.
District No. 18, 1225 4th street southwest.
District No. 19, 1009 H street northeast.
District No. 20, 204 3d street southeast.
District No. 21, 246 11th street southeast.
District No. 22, northeast corner 5th and L streets southeast.

Does Not Insure Passage.

But the messages do not pass a bit more having received this sanction of the palace. Minister of Communications Rhylls inspects them whether or not they have the king's approval. Recently a very important paragraph in an interview given by King Constantine to the correspondent of the Associated Press was "the king himself, when the matter was brought to the attention of the sovereign he concluded that Minister Rhylls was probably quite wise in deleting the paragraph in question, and there the discussion ended."

The correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt a short time ago created a sensation by avoiding all censorship of the press and publishing in which King Constantine. Although the monarch had made it a condition of his receiving the telegram that he would not publish it, the Berlin correspondent was altogether too delighted with what he heard on the occasion of his first meeting with the Greek sovereign to resist temptation. But he was too wise to risk his life by publishing the telegram, and he risked it in the hands of Ministers Skouliotis, Rhylls and Gounaris; so he sent it out by post, under cover of the German legation pouch, and when it was finally published there was a sensation in Greece. Since that incident Constantine has steadfastly refused to be directly quoted by any one for publication, and has received only one journalist, a man in whom he has great confidence.

WASHINGTON SQUARE.

Story of an Interesting Locality in the Big City.

From the New York World.
Plans for a fourteen-story $750,000 apartment house on the east corner of Thompson and West 4th streets fore-shadow a possible renaissance for old Washington square and may well bring cheer to the protective association of that famous park region. The proposed building operation means the redemption of a large portion of the square from a condition which residents of the well preserved north side have long regarded with eyes regretful and reproachful.

Washington square was in the last years of the eighteenth century a burial place for victims of pestilence. From that period until 1823 it was the pinner's field and the local name of Calvary hill was applied because of several executions which took place there. The place was made a park in 1827, when it had come to be known as the Washington parade ground, and with the eventual removal of bodies to a new potter's field the district became one of fashionable residence. To its aristocratic character, which continued up to the early '80s, the north side mansion still testifies, with all the elegance of which old brick and marble are capable.

Apartment houses have made something of an inroad to the west on the square. The old New York university building on the east has given way to a modern structure, and the great red structure. It is the south side which has gone most to decay—with the Judson memorial, nevertheless, as a saving factor, and to which the new project will bring relief and rebirth.

Honors Memory of Clara Barton.

Tribute was paid the memory of Clara Barton by Rev. Dr. John Brittan Clark of the First Presbyterian Church yesterday when he spoke on the subject of "Memory Day." He spoke of her great work for humanity and for the United States.

Sounded Horsey.

From the Boston Transcript.
Wife—"You don't try a bit to curb your temper."
Hub—"Certainly not! Sounds as if you take me for a horse."

DELEGATES SELECT DATE OF PRIMARIES

Delegates for District to National Convention to Be Chosen Wednesday.

Democratic primaries to elect twelve delegates to the democratic national convention in St. Louis from the District of Columbia and the District's member of the national committee will be held Wednesday, and the polls will be open from 3 to 7 p.m. This announcement was made today by the democratic central committee, together with the location of the polling places and instructions to officers at the twenty-two election districts.

The instructions say that the judges and clerks must be on duty between 3 and 7 p.m., and continue:

Rules Announced.
"Each male voter over twenty-one years of age shall give his name and address, state his party affiliation, that he has been a resident of the District for one year and a resident of the voting district for three months prior to the election, and he will support the nominee of the democratic national convention, and that he will not participate in any other primary this year. If such voter has participated in any other primary, he shall be ineligible to vote in these primaries."

"Immediately upon the conclusion of the voting, all ballot boxes will be locked and delivered at once to the democratic central committee at democratic headquarters, Riggs building, where the ballots will be counted by each district and certified to by the chairman and secretary of the said committee."

"The democratic central committee of the District of Columbia, through its member of the democratic national committee and the twelve delegates to the St. Louis convention as shown by the returns to have been chosen a certificate of their election."

Voting Places.

The following are the voting places for the twenty-two districts:

District No. 1, 2104 Nichols avenue, Anacostia.
District No. 2, 701 Florida avenue northwest.
District No. 3, 1304 Wisconsin avenue northwest.
District No. 4, 1307 Wisconsin avenue northwest.
District No. 5, 2130 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.
District No. 6, 1810 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.
District No. 7, 1411 N street northwest.
District No. 8, 14th street near P street northwest.
District No. 9, 132 11th street northwest.
District No. 10, 329 12th street northwest.
District No. 11, 1355 C street southwest.
District No. 12, 617 F street southwest.
District No. 13, 1234 9th street northwest.
District No. 14, 50 M street northwest.
District No. 15, room 1, 500 H street northwest.
District No. 16, 455 Louisiana avenue northwest.
District No. 17, 620 D street southwest.
District No. 18, 1225 4th street southwest.
District No. 19, 1009 H street northeast.
District No. 20, 204 3d street southeast.
District No. 21, 246 11th street southeast.
District No. 22, northeast corner 5th and L streets southeast.

Does Not Insure Passage.

But the messages do not pass a bit more having received this sanction of the palace. Minister of Communications Rhylls inspects them whether or not they have the king's approval. Recently a very important paragraph in an interview given by King Constantine to the correspondent of the Associated Press was "the king himself, when the matter was brought to the attention of the sovereign he concluded that Minister Rhylls was probably quite wise in deleting the paragraph in question, and there the discussion ended."

The correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt a short time ago created a sensation by avoiding all censorship of the press and publishing in which King Constantine. Although the monarch had made it a condition of his receiving the telegram that he would not publish it, the Berlin correspondent was altogether too delighted with what he heard on the occasion of his first meeting with the Greek sovereign to resist temptation. But he was too wise to risk his life by publishing the telegram, and he risked it in the hands of Ministers Skouliotis, Rhylls and Gounaris; so he sent it out by post, under cover of the German legation pouch, and when it was finally published there was a sensation in Greece. Since that incident Constantine has steadfastly refused to be directly quoted by any one for publication, and has received only one journalist, a man in whom he has great confidence.

WASHINGTON SQUARE.

Story of an Interesting Locality in the Big City.

From the New York World.
Plans for a fourteen-story $750,000 apartment house on the east corner of Thompson and West 4th streets fore-shadow a possible renaissance for old Washington square and may well bring cheer to the protective association of that famous park region. The proposed building operation means the redemption of a large portion of the square from a condition which residents of the well preserved north side have long regarded with eyes regretful and reproachful.

Washington square was in the last years of the eighteenth century a burial place for victims of pestilence. From that period until 1823 it was the pinner's field and the local name of Calvary hill was applied because of several executions which took place there. The place was made a park in 1827, when it had come to be known as the Washington parade ground, and with the eventual removal of bodies to a new potter's field the district became one of fashionable residence. To its aristocratic character, which continued up to the early '80s, the north side mansion still testifies, with all the elegance of which old brick and marble are capable.

Apartment houses have made something of an inroad to the west on the square. The old New York university building on the east has given way to a modern structure, and the great red structure. It is the south side which has gone most to decay—with the Judson memorial, nevertheless, as a saving factor, and to which the new project will bring relief and rebirth.

Honors Memory of Clara Barton.

Tribute was paid the memory of Clara Barton by Rev. Dr. John Brittan Clark of the First Presbyterian Church yesterday when he spoke on the subject of "Memory Day." He spoke of her great work for humanity and for the United States.

Sounded Horsey.

From the Boston Transcript.
Wife—"You don't try a bit to curb your temper."
Hub—"Certainly not! Sounds as if you take me for a horse."

DELEGATES SELECT DATE OF PRIMARIES

Delegates for District to National Convention to Be Chosen Wednesday.

Democratic primaries to elect twelve delegates to the democratic national convention in St. Louis from the District of Columbia and the District's member of the national committee will be held Wednesday, and the polls will be open from 3 to 7 p.m. This announcement was made today by the democratic central committee, together with the location of the polling places and instructions to officers at the twenty-two election districts.

The instructions say that the judges and clerks must be on duty between 3 and 7 p.m., and continue:

Rules Announced.
"Each male voter over twenty-one years of age shall give his name and address, state his party affiliation, that he has been a resident of the District for one year and a resident of the voting district for three months prior to the election, and he will support the nominee of the democratic national convention, and that he will not participate in any other primary this year. If such voter has participated in any other primary, he shall be ineligible to vote in these primaries."

"Immediately upon the conclusion of the voting, all ballot boxes will be locked and delivered at once to the democratic central committee at democratic headquarters, Riggs building, where the ballots will be counted by each district and certified to by the chairman and secretary of the said committee."

"The democratic central committee of the District of Columbia, through its member of the democratic national committee and the twelve delegates to the St. Louis convention as shown by the returns to have been chosen a certificate of their election."

Voting Places.

The following are the voting places for the twenty-two districts:

District No. 1, 2104 Nichols avenue, Anacostia.
District No. 2, 701 Florida avenue northwest.
District No. 3, 1304 Wisconsin avenue northwest.
District No. 4, 1307 Wisconsin avenue northwest.
District No. 5, 2130 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.
District No. 6, 1810 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.
District No. 7, 1411 N street northwest.
District No. 8, 14th street near P street northwest.
District No. 9, 132 11th street northwest.
District No. 10, 329 12th street northwest.
District No. 11, 1355 C street southwest.
District No. 12, 617 F street southwest.
District No. 13, 1234 9th street northwest.
District No. 14, 50 M street northwest.
District No. 15, room 1, 500 H street northwest.
District No. 16, 455 Louisiana avenue northwest.
District No. 17, 620 D street southwest.
District No. 18, 1225 4th street southwest.
District No. 19, 1009 H street northeast.
District No. 20, 204 3d street southeast.
District No. 21, 246 11th street southeast.
District No. 22, northeast corner 5th and L streets southeast.

Does Not Insure Passage.

But the messages do not pass a bit more having received this sanction of the palace. Minister of Communications Rhylls inspects them whether or not they have the king's approval. Recently a very important paragraph in an interview given by King Constantine to the correspondent of the Associated Press was "the king himself, when the matter was brought to the attention of the sovereign he concluded that Minister Rhylls was probably quite wise in deleting the paragraph in question, and there the discussion ended."

The correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt a short time ago created a sensation by avoiding all censorship of the press and publishing in which King Constantine. Although the monarch had made it a condition of his receiving the telegram that he would not publish it, the Berlin correspondent was altogether too delighted with what he heard on the occasion of his first meeting with the Greek sovereign to resist temptation. But he was too wise to risk his life by publishing the telegram, and he risked it in the hands of Ministers Skouliotis, Rhylls and Gounaris; so he sent it out by post, under cover of the German legation pouch, and when it was finally published there was a sensation in Greece. Since that incident Constantine has steadfastly refused to be directly quoted by any one for publication, and has received only one journalist, a man in whom he has great confidence.

WASHINGTON SQUARE.

Story of an Interesting Locality in the Big City.

From the New York World.
Plans for a fourteen-story $750,000 apartment house on the east corner of Thompson and West 4th streets fore-shadow a possible renaissance for old Washington square and may well bring cheer to the protective association of that famous park region. The proposed building operation means the redemption of a large portion of the square from a condition which residents of the well preserved north side have long regarded with eyes regretful and reproachful.

Washington square was in the last years of the eighteenth century a burial place for victims of pestilence. From that period until 1823 it was the pinner's field and the local name of Calvary hill was applied because of several executions which took place there. The place was made a park in 1827, when it had come to be known as the Washington parade ground, and with the eventual removal of bodies to a new potter's field the district became one of fashionable residence. To its aristocratic character, which continued up to the early '80s, the north side mansion still testifies, with all the elegance of which old brick and marble are capable.

Apartment houses have made something of an inroad to the west on the square. The old New York university building on the east has given way to a modern structure, and the great red structure. It is the south side which has gone most to decay—with the Judson memorial, nevertheless, as a saving factor, and to which the new project will bring relief and rebirth.

Honors Memory of Clara Barton.

Tribute was paid the memory of Clara Barton by Rev. Dr. John Brittan Clark of the First Presbyterian Church yesterday when he spoke on the subject of "Memory Day." He spoke of her great work for humanity and for the United States.

Sounded Horsey.

From the Boston Transcript.
Wife—"You don't try a bit to curb your temper."
Hub—"Certainly not! Sounds as if you take me for a horse."

DELEGATES SELECT DATE OF PRIMARIES

Delegates for District to National Convention to Be Chosen Wednesday.

Democratic primaries to elect twelve delegates to the democratic national convention in St. Louis from the District of Columbia and the District's member of the national committee will be held Wednesday, and the polls will be open from 3 to 7 p.m. This announcement was made today by the democratic central committee, together with the location of the polling places and instructions to officers at the twenty-two election districts.

The instructions say that the judges and clerks must be on duty between 3 and 7 p.m., and continue:

Rules Announced.
"Each male voter over twenty-one years of age shall give his name and address, state his party affiliation, that he has been a resident of the District for one year and a resident of the voting district for three months prior to the election, and he will support the nominee of the democratic national convention, and that he will not participate in any other primary this year. If such voter has participated in any other primary, he shall be ineligible to vote in these primaries."

"Immediately upon the conclusion of the voting, all ballot boxes will be locked and delivered at once to the democratic central committee at democratic headquarters, Riggs building, where the ballots will be counted by each district and certified to by the chairman and secretary of the said committee."

"The democratic central committee of the District of Columbia, through its member of the democratic national committee and the twelve delegates to the St. Louis convention as shown by the returns to have been chosen a certificate of their election."

Voting Places.

The following are the voting places for the twenty-two districts:

District No. 1, 2104 Nichols avenue, Anacostia.
District No. 2, 701 Florida avenue northwest.
District No. 3, 1304 Wisconsin avenue northwest.
District No. 4, 1307 Wisconsin avenue northwest.
District No. 5, 2130 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.
District No. 6, 1810 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.
District No. 7, 1411 N street northwest.
District No. 8, 14th street near P street northwest.
District No. 9, 132 11th street northwest.
District No. 10, 329 12th street northwest.
District No. 11, 1355 C street southwest.
District No. 12, 617 F street southwest.
District No. 13, 1234 9th street northwest.
District No. 14, 50 M street northwest.
District No. 15, room 1, 500 H street northwest.
District No. 16, 455 Louisiana avenue northwest.
District No. 17, 620 D street southwest.
District No. 18, 1225 4th street southwest.
District No. 19, 1009 H street northeast.
District No. 20, 204 3d street southeast.
District No. 21, 246 11th street southeast.
District No. 22, northeast corner 5th and L streets southeast.

Does Not Insure Passage.

But the messages do not pass a bit more having received this sanction of the palace. Minister of Communications Rhylls inspects them whether or not they have the king's approval. Recently a very important paragraph in an interview given by King Constantine to the correspondent of the Associated Press was "the king himself, when the matter was brought to the attention of the sovereign he concluded that Minister Rhylls was probably quite wise in deleting the paragraph in question, and there the discussion ended."

The correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt a short time ago created a sensation by avoiding all censorship of the press and publishing in which King Constantine. Although the monarch had made it a condition of his receiving the telegram that he would not publish it, the Berlin correspondent was altogether too delighted with what he heard on the occasion of his first meeting with the Greek sovereign to resist temptation. But he was too wise to risk his life by publishing the telegram, and he risked it in the hands of Ministers Skouliotis, Rhylls and Gounaris; so he sent it out by post, under cover of the German legation pouch, and when it was finally published there was a sensation in Greece. Since that incident Constantine has steadfastly refused to be directly quoted by any one for publication, and has received only one journalist, a man in whom he has great confidence.

WASHINGTON SQUARE.

Story of an Interesting Locality in the Big City.

From the New York World.
Plans for a fourteen-story $750,000 apartment house on the east corner of Thompson and West 4th streets fore-shadow a possible renaissance for old Washington square and may well bring cheer to the protective association of that famous park region. The proposed building operation means the redemption of a large portion of the square from a condition which residents of the well preserved north side have long regarded with eyes regretful and reproachful.

Washington square was in the last years of the eighteenth century a burial place for victims of pestilence. From that period until 1823 it was the pinner's field and the local name of Calvary hill was applied because of several executions which took place there. The place was made a park in 1827, when it had come to be known as the Washington parade ground, and with the eventual removal of bodies to a new potter's field the district became one of fashionable residence. To its aristocratic character, which continued up to the early '80s, the north side mansion still testifies, with all the elegance of which old brick and marble are capable.

Apartment houses have made something of an inroad to the west on the square. The old New York university building on the east has given way to a modern structure, and the great red structure. It is the south side which has gone most to decay—with the Judson memorial, nevertheless, as a saving factor, and to which the new project will bring relief and rebirth.

Honors Memory of Clara Barton.

Tribute was paid the memory of Clara Barton by Rev. Dr. John Brittan Clark of the First Presbyterian Church yesterday when he spoke on the subject of "Memory Day." He spoke of her great work for humanity and for the United States.

Sounded Horsey.

From the Boston Transcript.
Wife—"You don't try a bit to curb your temper."
Hub—"Certainly not! Sounds as if you take me for a horse."

DELEGATES SELECT DATE OF PRIMARIES

Delegates for District to National Convention to Be Chosen Wednesday.

Democratic primaries to elect twelve delegates to the democratic national convention in St. Louis from the District of Columbia and the District's member of the national committee will be held Wednesday, and the polls will be open from 3 to 7 p.m. This announcement was made today by the democratic central committee, together with the location of the polling places and instructions to officers at the twenty-two election districts.

The instructions say that the judges and clerks must be on duty between 3 and 7 p.m., and continue:

Rules Announced.
"Each male voter over twenty-one years of age shall give his name and address, state his party affiliation, that he has been a resident of the District for one year and a resident of the voting district for three months prior to the election, and he will support the nominee of the democratic national convention, and that he will not participate in any other primary this year. If such voter has participated in any other primary, he shall be ineligible to vote in these primaries."

"Immediately upon the conclusion of the voting, all ballot boxes will be locked and delivered at once to the democratic central committee at democratic headquarters, Riggs building, where the ballots will be counted by each district and certified to by the chairman and secretary of the said committee."

"The democratic central committee of the District of Columbia, through its member of the democratic national committee and the twelve delegates to the St. Louis convention as shown by the returns to have been chosen a certificate of their election."

Voting Places.